Own the resort. Live the Caribbean life.

What if your next investment could also change the way you live?

Imagine waking up in your own penthouse overlooking the Spanish Water, while downstairs your boutique resort is already welcoming guests and generating rental income.

That opportunity already exists. It’s called Panache Resort.

Located in highly sought-after Jan Thiel, Panache combines prime real estate, an established hospitality business and Caribbean living in one unique property. The resort is fully operational with 6 turnkey rental units, proven rental performance, strong occupancy and confirmed future bookings. The apartments and bungalows are furnished, the website is established and the existing operation is ready to continue.

Whether you see yourself living here an...
